

England Infected Blood Support Scheme (EIBSS) Discretionary one-off payment application form: Accommodation repairs

Notes to applicants

Discretionary one-off payments are a form of financial support that beneficiaries may apply for to cover the cost of certain essential health related items or services.

You must apply for payment before committing to payments of any services or expenditure. Please note any payments you make before approval may not be paid.

Failure to provide requested further information within a one-month period will result in a new application being required.

Who can apply

To apply for the Accommodation adaptations discretionary one-off payment, the applicant must be:

- An infected beneficiary registered with EIBSS

What you can apply for

A discretionary payment of up to £2,500 per year is available towards repairs to the home that are required to prevent serious risk to the health and safety of an infected beneficiary.

The beneficiary's insurance company should be the first point of call for getting help as some repairs may be provided under their policy. We will require a copy of the policy to confirm the repairs cannot be completed under their agreement.

If the beneficiary resides in rented accommodation, such as from the council, housing association or privately landlord, an application should first be made to the homeowner for this support.

If the beneficiary cannot receive this support elsewhere, a discretionary payment is available from EIBSS.

How to apply

To apply through EIBSS, the applicant must send:

- A completed accommodation repairs discretionary one-off payment application form;
- Confirmation from the insurance company that support is not covered or only partly covered;
- Two quotes for the work on letter headed paper;

and if in rented accommodation:

- Confirmation from the homeowner that the repair is not their responsibility.
